

KNIGHT RIDER

February 2009

Dear NBC

We are long time fans of Knight Rider, both old and new. We are fans by every definition of the term, "fanatical." Over-enthusiastic some might say, but we prefer another synonym, "passionate." Yes we do buy every Knight Rider product to come into stores, and yes we have been known to leave NBC on during a show we normally do not watch in hopes of catching another Knight Rider commercial. But by passionate we are also people who are dedicated to something that we believe in. We believe in a show that has touched us as children, and has touched many of us who live all around the world.

We passionately want to see this show get the chance that it deserves. A chance to be seen by audiences everywhere who we know will love it dearly. We do not have a Nielsen box in our homes, and so we are writing to you now so that our voices may be heard.

I am a Knight Rider Fan!

Sincerely yours,
